

Surcharging

Simple and intuitive implementation of surcharging on integrated payment terminals.

Provides merchants with the capability to accurately surcharge customers in line with the 'Cost of Acceptance' regulations

Remove the complexity of keying surcharging rates into payment terminal

Enter surcharge rates into the Linkly POS Client for accurate and easily updated rates

Simple implementation

Linkly has created an easy to use surcharging menu in the Linkly Client, which resides on your point of sale (POS) system. This removes the complex process of navigating through layers of menus to add and updates surcharge rates on payment terminals.

Cost of acceptance

Merchant acquirers provide the 'Cost of Acceptance' details in your merchant statements. These surcharging values should be updated each month based on your merchant statement.

Persistent surcharge model

Linkly surcharging values are entered into the POS, rather than the payment terminal removing the need to rekey values into the Payment Terminals when a terminal is replaced.

Secure

Surcharging changes can only be made by staff that have access to the secure components of your POS system.

Accurate immediate surcharging

Linkly Card Surcharging meets the merchant acquirer standards for applying surcharges to correct cards every time. Updates are provided by the merchant acquirer on your merchant statement.

Surcharge legislation compliant

Linkly has provided a surcharge disclosure capability to allow cardholders to have the option of seeing the surcharge amounts before completing the purchase.

Implementation just takes 5 simple steps:

1. Contact your merchant acquirer to request installation of a Linkly Surcharging compliant payment terminal.
2. Apply directly to your merchant acquirer to enable surcharging.
3. Refer to your Merchant Statement to understand your 'Cost of Acceptance', which indicates your reasonable Surcharging amounts.
4. Access the Linkly Client on your Point of Sale System and configure your Surcharging values.
5. You're ready to go. Each transaction processed will include a Surcharge component.

Note: Merchants should be aware that with the introduction of surcharging, there are rules regarding disclosure of surcharging to the cardholder. Please contact your merchant acquirer for more information.
